Daugherty Seeks Power For Lausche To Hit Gambling

BY REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche's plea for power to wage state-wide war on organized gambling got senate attention today.
Sen. W. H. Daugherty, a Democrat of Wellsville, asked the legislature in a bill to grant the authority the governor asked in his Jan. 17 "state of the state" address.
Lausche said he acted in his 1945-46 term against mayors failing to enforce gambling laws. He wanted the power extended to cover sheriffs and make it county-wide. This would embrace the entire state.
We occasionally find in our state a sheriff who flagrantly refuses to enforce the law and permits the operation of racketeering commercial gambling enterprises," Lausche told the General Assembly.
Daugherty's bill of last night would allow the governor to oust sheriffs blind to gambling in their counties. It would do this under a clause providing for removal for gross neglect of duty. Other reasons for removal include bribery, gross immorality or gross drunkenness.
Thirty-day suspensions without pay are provided to permit public hearings on ouster charges before removal.

6 MISSING AFTER RIPON, WIS., FIRE

Two Persons Known Dead After Hotel Burns To Ground Today

RIPON, Wis., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Fire raged through the Grand View hotel here early today, trapping an undetermined number of persons in the flames.
Witnesses said that "most" of the 48 guests had escaped but Police Chief Ira Dunham said as the blaze was brought under control, "there are some still in there."
At least two persons—and possibly as many as six—were unaccounted for at 7 o'clock (CST) this morning as firemen from Ripon and four nearby cities continued to pour water on ruins of the three-story hotel, still lighted fitfully by flames.
Police said it would be at least afternoon before searchers would be able to get into the embers.
Electrifies Town
The alarm as the entire Ripon fire department turned out some 4,000 residents and most of them hurried to the scene.
One of the eye-witnesses, Mrs. C. W. Umbreit, whose home is two doors away from the hotel on the same side of the street, saw the flames leap from the roof near the chimney at 1:20 a. m. when the first alarm was sounded. She saw guests flee down ladders and fire escapes, and saw some jump from various floors.
One man, Warren Schleiner, 28, Elmhurst, Ill., leaped from the third floor. He escaped with cuts and bruises and was reported in good condition at the Ripon Municipal hospital.
A fireman was cut above the eye by falling timber but was released from the hospital after treatment.
Mrs. Umbreit said some of the survivors fled in their nightclothes in the near-zero night.
The fire—of undetermined origin—ate steadily from the top of the structure built in 1870 down to the basement until it had leveled the hotel completely. But the flames were prevented from spreading to adjoining structures.
The proprietor of the hotel, Mrs. Mamie Kuhn, said the hotel register was destroyed and she had no check of the guests. She stated, however, that the hotel was filled to capacity with 48 persons when the fire broke out.

Retired Salem Man, 82, Carves Out Peace Statues For Posterity

The "Angel of Peace" will come to rest in a quiet spot where many can view its beauty, if the wish of its creator, C. R. Segesman, carver and painter, comes true.

He plans to give the statue, which he carved from simulated ivory, to any organization or persons and asks only that they truly appreciate its message.

Segesman, who resides at 365 S. Ellsworth ave., has been carving and painting for more than 40 years. He is well-known in Salem as he formerly operated a photographic studio here.

At 82 he has retired but his nimble fingers are often busy at carving. He claims his forte is in painting, as he has had numerous works exhibited in various galleries.

He is a native of Switzerland, a land famous for intricate craftsmanship and watchmaking. He was born in the Castle of Thun, picturesque village, and came to this country in 1882 at the age of 16.

At the feet of his Angel of Peace are objects representing the havoc of war: a broken wheel, cannon and twisted tree stump. It was made in two pieces with a common pocket knife serving as his only tool. The marblelike material used is composed of pottery clay, alum and plaster. Segesman said that he worked four months in his spare time before completing the statue.

The "Goddess of Grace," his most recent statue, is almost two feet high and was completed last summer. He does not rate his talent as the most necessary requirement for success in this art. "A lot of patience is the gift most needed," according to Segesman.

For one of his earliest statues, depicting William Tell and his son, he and his brother combined efforts more than 40 years ago. His own family includes three sons: Clifford and LeRoy, of Salem; Herman, of Columbiana; two daughters: Mrs. Hazel Girard of Washingtonville and Mrs. Lucy Meier of Salem; five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Minister, Tulsa Plan Head, Not Disturbed By Threat

TULSA, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Rev. Wallace J. Murphy, who started the "Tulsa Plan" for mass evictions in protest against rent controls, said today that he was "not disturbed" by the threat of a mysterious woman who said she was "going to kill him."
Mrs. Roy Sheldon, wife of the president of the Tulsa Property Owners association, of which Murphy is executive secretary, said the woman called the association office and asked for Rev. Murphy. When told that he was not in, Mrs. Sheldon said that the woman warned: "He'd better not be in, because I'm going to kill him."
Rev. Murphy has been at his home since he suffered a heart attack last Thursday, he said he had many calls "berating" him for his campaign to evict renters, but that this was the first time his life was threatened.
Meanwhile, the National Association of Property owners announced at Kansas City that it will raise $1,000,000 to educate the people to the true facts about rent control. If controls are extended.
Thurman L. McCormick, executive director of the national group, said the group planned an annual $1 assessment of each unit of rental property owned by member landlords and tenants.
He estimated that 750,000 rental units in the nation have been withdrawn from the rental market in protest against rent controls, about 300,000 of them by members of the 18-month-old association.
"This will snowball and no one will be able to see where it will stop unless something is done," McCormick said. "We're not interested in gouging our tenants, but we do expect a fair return for our investment."
"The government does not have the right to tell landlords to whom to rent," he said. "Nor does the association have the right to tell landlords not to rent."

Skies Clear, But Weather Is Cold

Skies were mostly clear but temperatures were on the chilly side over virtually all of the country today.
The fair weather was welcome in the western blizzard area where relief operations were increased as military and civilian forces continued their efforts to aid the snowbound and hungry humans and livestock.
Temperatures moderated over some parts of the frost-bitten south sub-zero blasts in Texas caused millions of dollars of damage to crops. But the mercury again was far below freezing in northern and central Texas, Tennessee, northern Mississippi, northern Alabama and most of Arkansas.
Fresh Cold
There was a fresh cold wave in the Northern and Central plains. Temperatures also took a dip in the northern Rocky mountains, Nevada, Utah, the eastern portions of Washington and Oregon and in the lower Mississippi valley.
North Dakota and northern Minnesota had the coldest weather. Early morning lows in North Dakota were 15 to 20 below zero and in Minnesota 10 to 15 below. The cold air was expected to extend over most of the north central region tonight and tomorrow.
Waco, Tex., reported a reading of 8 above today but warmer weather spread over the Rio Grande valley where the mercury dipped to near zero yesterday. Temperatures generally were 15 to 20 degrees higher than yesterday.
The unseasonable cold in Texas caused heavy damage to the fruit, potato and tomato crops. Temperatures today were about 15 to 20 degrees higher than yesterday. Memphis, Tenn., which had a high of 31 yesterday, shivered in 7 above today and in Bowling Green, Ky., today's low was 3 above.

SEES HOLDING OF COURT BAN IN LABOR BILL

Sen. Smith Believes That Provision Will Stick; Ching To Appear

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Senator H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) predicted today that congress will keep the Taft-Hartley law provision for court orders to block national emergency strikes.

Smith's forecast came as the senate labor committee made ready to hear (10 a. m. EST) two more government witnesses on the administration new labor bill.

The bill would repeal the whole Taft-Hartley measure and restore the Wagner Labor act with the "improvements" President Truman is seeking.

Ching To Appear
Cyrus S. Ching, director of the Federal Conciliation service, was first on today's witness list. The administration bill would put the service, now an independent agency, back under the Labor department.

Ching reportedly has threatened to quit if that happens.

Paul M. Herzog, chairman of the National Labor Relations board, was slated to testify after Ching. Herzog is expected to endorse sections of the new bill which deal with the NLRB.

Attorney General Clark also had been slated as a witness today, but last night he decided instead to send the committee a written statement later.

The Taft-Hartley provision which Smith predicted congress will keep is the one which lets the government get 80-day injunctions to prevent strikes which imperil the national health or safety.

The administration bill, which secretary of Labor Tobin outlined to the committee yesterday, would replace that machinery with a 30-day voluntary cooling-off procedure. Under it, emergency boards appointed by the President would recommend terms for settling disputes.

BELL SAYS PLANE, X-1, GOES 1700 MPH

CLEVELAND, Feb. 1.—(AP)—An aviation plant executive has confirmed indirectly that the X-1, first airplane to exceed the speed of sound in level flight, has attained velocities of 1,700 miles per hour and climbed to an altitude of 80,000 feet.
Lawrence D. Bell, Buffalo industrialist and aviation pioneer whose firm engineered the rocket-powered, experimental craft made his disclosure last night in an address before the third annual banquet of the Cleveland Technical Societies council.

Bell said the plane was designed to hit the 1,700 m. p. h. and 80,000 foot marks and then disclosed that the X-1 has been eminently "successful in all its tests."

Results Secret
Air force security regulations prohibit naming exact results achieved.
Bell also said that his Bell Aircraft Corp. in Niagara Falls, N. Y., is now building a plane "60 to 70 percent faster than the X-1."

Such an aircraft would reach speeds in excess of 2,400 miles per hour. This is more than three times the velocity of sound (763 m. p. h.) at sea level.
Only limiting factor, Bell told the engineers and technical men present, is that the present X-1 runs out of fuel while still accelerating. Its rocket motor develops 25,000 horsepower at full speed, he said. By comparison, the most advanced reciprocating airplane engine delivers a maximum of 4,000 horsepower.

Discussing the broader aspects of military aviation, Bell observed that we might conceivably be approaching the end of an "explosive warfare—and airplane being merely an explosives carrier with longer range than a gun—because we are beginning to know how to deliver either explosives or bacteria by guided missile."

Bell said he doubted that the atomic bomb is the ultimate solution to warfare.
Future emphasis must be placed on guided missiles, he stressed, because it will be virtually impossible to bring a conventional piloted aircraft over an enemy target in another war.

Want Two Million Tons Sent U.S. To Cut Ruhr Output

PARIS, Feb. 1.—(INS)—Diplomatic sources in Paris disclosed today that American officials have asked the French government whether France can guaranty to export two million tons of steel annually to the United States.

The French have been told that if France can promise to deliver this amount to the U. S. on a permanent basis, the American government will reconsider plans for further increasing Germany's steel production level.

This is understood to be the U. S. answer to French protests against reported Anglo-American plans to increase German steel production from the present 10,700,000 tons annual level to 14,000,000 tons.

American officials have advised the French that the United States government wishes to protect America against the danger of a future domestic steel shortage by assuring supplies from abroad.

Consider Proposal
The French government is now considering the American proposal. France is producing about 8,000,000 tons of steel annually. French economic experts are confident production could be increased sufficiently to export two million tons without impairing France's economy, providing the factories are not affected by serious labor troubles.

What worries the government, however, is the guaranty angle of the American proposal. French officials point out that strikes might seriously interfere with production from time to time, and it would therefore be difficult to guarantee the exports to the U. S. each year.

The French are deeply concerned over what they consider to be the rapid rate of western Germany's economic recovery. They feel that the United States and Great Britain are permitting Germany to regain its economic strength much too quickly, and at a pace which may lead eventually to German economic domination of Western Europe.

Ruhr steel production is now almost equal to what France is producing. It has nearly doubled since last June, and the French are perturbed by reports that the Germans are talking about the need for 18,000,000 to 20,000,000 tons annually to meet necessary import payments.

ARAB-JEW DISPUTE IS NEARING END
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—U. S. officials held out hope today that a settlement of the Arab-Jew dispute may be a step nearer now with full American recognition of both Israel and Trans-Jordan.

They looked for the dual recognition also to:

1. Increase Israel's chances for early election to membership in the United Nations.
2. Encourage other governments to recognize Trans-Jordan. Therefore Trans-Jordan can get into the U. N. there may have to be a change in present relations between Russia and the west. The Soviets vetoed its admission last year.

President Truman formally welcomed the two countries into the world family of nations late yesterday. By granting full "de jure" recognition to Israel, he carried out a campaign pledge made last Oct. 3. The White House noted the President said that this American backing would be forthcoming following the first national elections by the new state.

TRAVEL SERVICE IS OPENED HERE
A complete travel service bureau for Salem area residents was opened yesterday in the Lape hotel lobby with Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Waters, of New York, operating the service.

Mrs. Ruth McDonald will be desk clerk.
Waters said the service will be entirely without charge for air lines, steamship and bus service. There is a minimum charge for railroad arrangements, except when a vacationer desires a package tour.

The service will be able to facilitate rapid handling of commercial and pleasure transportation needs and will offer suggestions for hotel reservations.

The Travel Service Inc. has complete representation in Salem of all airlines and steamship companies. Airline connection will be made at the Youngstown and Akron-Canton airports.

Travelers can secure airline tickets without going to the airport to pick them up, according to Waters. Sam Keener, president, and Nelson Rokes, of the Salem Engineering Co. were instrumental in bringing the service here.

News From Moscow

On second thought, which is what thoughtful people did after reading that Premier Stalin was willing to talk to President Truman about better relations between the United States and Russia, the announcement didn't add up to much.

J. Kingsbury Smith, International News Service manager in Europe, submitted four questions to Stalin. The first three concerned general attitudes about negotiation for better relations. The fourth asked whether Stalin would be willing to talk to President Truman. "I have already stated before," replied Stalin, "that there is no objection to a meeting." Actually, there was nothing else Stalin could say.

Other newsmen also have submitted questions to Stalin—Roy W. Howard, Hugh Baillie and Elliott Roosevelt, who assumed the newsmen role on a magazine assignment. Wendell Willkie, Joseph E. Davis and Harold Stassen also have obtained replies to questions asked the Russian dictator. Stalin is not inaccessible. He merely knows how to get attention, like Greta Garbo, by timing his interviews.

But there always has been a vast difference between what he seemed to say and what the Kremlin thereafter proceeded to do. That will be true, in all probability, of his latest assurance that he and the Russian dictatorship are open-minded and thirsty for goodwill. They must prove it by showing that they understand what goodwill is.

Unfortunately, not everybody understands the American psychology which makes every whisper and throat-clearing in the Kremlin front-page news. It will be a miracle if Stalin's latest answers do not do what almost was done when Mr. Truman toyed with the idea of sending Chief Justice Vinson to Moscow last fall. Every European government gambling on the United States to win the cold war will wonder whether the United States is secretly fooling with the notion of getting together with Russia in some new arrangement of power politics.

Don't Conceal Security Taxes

The Federal Security administration proposes stamp books for collecting old-age pension payments from persons who may be added to the security rolls under the law proposed by the Truman administration.

If stamp books are used—and if the proposed expansion of social security coverage is approved by congress—it won't be long until the cost of the social security stamps becomes part of the cost of day wages. Theoretically, the employer is to pay half and the employee the other half, as in payroll deductions for old-age benefits. But in practice, there will be a powerful incentive for the employer to pay the whole amount, just as many employers of household help, for example, now pay the employees' transportation costs.

There would be nothing wrong about this, except that it would conceal from the beneficiaries of social security the one thing which never should be concealed; namely, that all social security payments are a tax on their earnings. The tax is collected in the case of old-age pensions, for the benefit of the federal treasury and is spent like any other revenue. The only difference is that a bookkeeping entry is made to show how much was collected and is therefore due at some later date to the taxpayer.

When the amount falls due, its equivalent then must be derived from further taxation.

The Rubber Stamps Were Ready

There will be a slight delay before the rubber stamps of the Democratic members of the senate labor committee come thudding down on the Truman administration's labor bill.

Secretary of Labor Tobin, who was to have delivered the bill to the lawmakers Friday, couldn't make it. Having no minds of their own and no bill, the members of the majority were forced to postpone their rubber-stamping exercises. Tobin will bring the bill early next week.

This sort of thing was common a few years back when rubber-stamp congressmen used to meet everything sent to them by the White House, including laws later found to be in violation of the Constitution. It put a dent in congressional prestige that is still being hammered out by those who think congress should make laws, not merely approve laws made by the executive department.

There was no rubber-stamping of White House laws in the 80th congress, which helps to explain why Harry Truman made it the object of a smear campaign while stamping the country last fall.

The Art of Working Together

A bold move to offset class hatred has been made by the Twentieth Century fund. Its labor committees, which includes officials of labor unions, spokesmen for employers and economists, has prepared a searching report titled "partners in production: A basis for labor-management understanding."

Committee members began with the basic assumption that every industrial enterprise must be by its nature a cooperative enterprise. They rejected the contradictory point of view that friction between employers and employees is an unavoidable circumstance of industry.

Labor, they agreed, has four fundamental goals: A sense of security, the opportunity to advance, more understanding treatment and a sense of dignity on the job. Management also has four goals: Good business, good relations with its employees, freedom to manage without interference, and businesslike relations.

The Twentieth Century committee asserts that none of these goals of either labor or management is necessarily in conflict with any of the goals of the other side. The problem of labor-management understanding is to learn how to appreciate the other fellow's point of view. When that is done, both sides will share in the benefits. The art of working together has been brought to its highest peak of development in America, but infinite opportunities for progress still exist—if Americans will try to understand each other, instead of trying to take short-sighted advantage of each other.

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, Feb. 2.

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

HIGH hopes hang in the balance, according to the critical sideral aspects in which there may develop rather uncertain, unforeseen and irregular situations or crises, in which more than ordinary acumen and sound insight into curious conditions may be the deciding factor. Definite change of plans, associates or environs may be called for, and these in accordance with the wisdom, advice or capital of higher-ups. These may be found strange, unorthodox or difficult to deal with. Make decisions with a view or prospect of future change, even curious adventures.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a period to tax not only their sound judgment, reason and logic, as well as exceptional skill in meeting unforeseen, curious or unconventional circumstances, upsetting previous plans, tactics or associates. Radical change may be required to meet new factors, abrupt, strange and annoying. Erratic situations or personages may upset previous objectives. Ingenuity, rare skills, revolutionary ideas, might avert this. Make changes and take on new relationships with precaution, astutely.

A child born on this day has the prospect of sudden and curious developments in its life, with the unpredictable and unusual tending to undermine its own novel plans or aspirations.

The younger generation learns things quickly from the older, says a writer. And maybe the younger generation is making a mistake.

Cheer up! The longer winter lasts the longer it will be before we try to open train windows.

Facts To Know About A Sprain

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Most of us at some time or another have suffered or will suffer from a sprain, so it is well that we know something about this condition.

There seem to be two types of sprains, one in which the joint is affected and the other in which the muscles are overstretched and injured.

With a sprain in which there is a joint injury, there is immediate swelling, probably due to bleeding in the joint in most cases. In other instances, there is pain and limited movement which is followed by swelling in about 12 to 24 hours.

Due to Sprain

In regard to injuries of the wrist, sprains do not occur as often as many persons think. In most cases, when trouble develops which is thought to be due to a sprain, there is really a break in the bone called the navicular bone in the wrist.

A fracture or break of this bone may be difficult to see in an X-ray plate, so that it is advisable, if a wrist injury does not seem to be getting well as rapidly as it should, that an X-ray examination be repeated within seven to ten days, when the break in the bone will be more readily seen.

There is a sign, known as Murphy's sign, which indicates that such a break is present. The sign consists of pounding on the knuckle of the bone which is behind the index finger. If a break of the navicular bone is present, the pain becomes more severe.

If this sign is positive, it is best that the wrist be put in a cast for about 10 to 14 days, after which an X-ray plate is again taken.

When an injury to the wrist is followed by rapid swelling, it is likely due to torn blood vessels together with injured muscles or bones. This condition is best treated by putting on a splint and a pressure bandage. The splint must be applied only by a physician for, if it is too tight, very extensive damage to the wrist may occur.

Muscle Spasm
The symptoms produced by so-called sprains of the back are, in most instances, caused by fatigue due to muscle spasm, which has pulled the back out of position. While this spasm may be relieved by heat, massage, or injections of the drug known as curium, it is necessary to find the underlying cause of the fatigue, such as poor posture, to prevent recurrence.

Knee sprains are, in most cases, accompanied by tears of the ligaments of the knee joint, or, in rare cases, are due to dislocation of the cartilage within the joint. It may be necessary to put the knee in a cast for about three weeks.

In ankle sprains, a variety of forms of treatment have been used, such as keeping the foot elevated and putting on ice-packs, massaging, taping, and injecting local anesthetics. The physician will decide which form of treatment is best in each case.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

B. C.: Is it possible for a person's heart to be completely normal after two attacks of rheumatic fever with complications of endocarditis and pericarditis?

Answer: It would not be possible for the heart to be completely normal after such attacks, since permanent damage is produced by rheumatic fever. However, with careful regulation of your activities and avoidance of strain, the heart may function satisfactorily for many years.

STALIN'S OFFER
GETTING CHILLY
WASHINGTON EYE

Officials Who Have Had Fingers Burned Before Moving Slowly

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Premier Josef Stalin's offer to consider a no-war pact with the United States found no takers here today among Truman administration officials.

Nearly all the Americans who have dealt with Moscow have burned their fingers at one time or another on Russian deals that looked good until they were read backward as well as forward.

But Washington still hopefully 'f' not optimistically, awaits some positive Soviet Union action instead of words toward world peace.

President Truman's scheduled his regular Monday conference with secretary of State Dean G. Acheson. If it is not cancelled, they are expected to have something to say to each other about Stalin's latest statements, but it won't be "yes." Stalin's objectives were all judged to be good as stated, except that in the experience of the record they added up to an offer to settle if the settlements were of Russian terms.

It appeared that Stalin eagerly had accepted a platform upon which to play some cold war diplomatic changes. Communists here abroad are expected to make considerable propaganda capital of the latest Kremlin statements. The incident will be twisted to support Moscow's basic claim that the United States wants a war in order to provoke one in order to dominate the world.

Neither the White House nor State department would comment on Stalin's statement made in response to questions submitted to him by a correspondent of the International News Service, other than to say no such communications had been received here.

One official did significantly suggest that some positive Russian action toward peace would speak louder than Stalin's words.

- ✓ STOMACH GAS
- ✓ SOUR FOOD TASTE
- ✓ ACID INDIGESTION

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief from this nervous distress.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment, sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Mahoning Commissioners Plan Route 46 Hearing

COLUMBIANA, Feb. 1—Mahoning county commissioners have set Thursday morning at 10 as the time for the meeting at the courthouse to consider the petition for the improvement of Route 46 from Columbiana to Canfield by widening the roadway and eliminating curves and other hazards.

At a meeting recently at the home of Paul S. Nichols, north of Columbiana, a committee was appointed to take up the matter with the commissioners, a petition having been circulated and signed.

The committee consists of Mr. Nichols, Thomas D. Watt and Louis Kietzly. The Beaver township trustees will participate in the conference.

Firestone post, American Legion, has endorsed the petition.

W. S. C. S. to Meet
A general meeting of the W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church will be held in the church dining room Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Willard Ferrall will review the study book on China, "Twilight or Dawn." All women of the church are invited. Lunch will follow the program.

Councilmen at Ashtabula

Councilmen Russell Barrow and Kenneth Ferrall were in Ashtabula Saturday, inspecting the parking meters in use there, the first step having been taken toward installation of meters here by a motion in council that the municipality advertise for bids for their installation. The motion will come up for a vote at the meeting of council Tuesday evening, Feb. 15.

The meter in use at Ashtabula is the park-o-meter, which has been demonstrated before council here, and has been found very satisfactory in that city, both as to adaptability and as a source of revenue. Comparisons with other types of meters used in five other municipalities along the lake, Ashtabula officials said, satisfied them that they could not have done better.

The primary consideration in connection with the proposal for meters in Columbiana is to keep vehicles moving and eliminate long-time parking. The entire council was to have visited Ashtabula, but it turned out that only two could make the trip.

Few Candidates Appear
Neither party appears to have a full slate of candidates for municipal offices at the May primaries, although there is still time to file petitions by Wednesday for places on the ballot.

With the exception of Clerk S. Richard Orr, Republicans have been in charge of municipal affairs since Jan. 1, 1946, the entire slate having been re-elected in 1947. The board of affairs, Clyde Hoover, Carl S. Keller and Ray Harrold, have filed for nomination for another term, but three members of council, Kenneth Ferrall, Joseph Harding and Harry Eberhardt, have declared their intention not to run again.

Councilman Wesley Burkhardt is out for mayor. Russell Barrow and H. A. Fullerton, remaining members of council, have not declared themselves.

Grade Mothers to Meet
The Grade Mothers club will meet in the high school Wednesday evening at 8, every member to be accompanied by a guest. Mrs. Willard Ferrall will give a book review.

Introduce Bill To Provide Low Housing

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1—(UP)—Two Republican senators Monday introduced a bill to provide 1,000,000 rent-purchase housing units which could cost low income dwell-ers as little as $13 a month.

The proposal was offered by Sens. Harry P. Cain, (R) of Washington and John W. Bricker (R) of Ohio. They described it as a program for low rent housing units.

However, the bill would allow occupants to buy $7,000 homes at a cost of only $3,500. The federal government would pay 25 per cent of the rest and the state and local governments 12 1/2 per cent each.

Occupants would be limited to the lowest 20 per cent of a community's income group. Rents would range from $13 to $30 monthly.

Senator Cain said the program would cost the federal government $1,500,000,000 but would save $14-000,000,000 compared with an administration program to build 1,050,000 public housing units over a seven-year period.

It takes about two bushels of corn and 150 pounds of alfalfa hay to make a feeder lamb of 90 pounds into a finished lamb of 90 pounds.

Dr. B. F. Lamb to Organize Ohio Council Further On Full-Time Basis

COLUMBUS, Feb. 1—(AP)—Dr. B. F. Lamb, organizer and for 25 years executive secretary of the Ohio Council of Churches, last night was elected president for a three year term.

Dr. Lamb succeeds Louis J. Taber of Columbus, former master of the National and Ohio State granges. Taber was named chairman of the council's assembly under constitutional changes in the organization voted at a meeting last fall.

The new appointments, Taber said, will streamline the council's working procedure and permit Dr. Lamb more time to plan a proposed Interdenominational Temple of Good Will, to be erected in Columbus.

The changes in the council's constitution makes the presidency a full time job and abolishes the office of executive secretary. Previously the office of president was a volunteer post.

To Name Assistant
The new setup also provides for a paid assistant to the president. Candidates for the assistant's job are now being screened, Taber said.

The council's presidency, which Taber held for seven years, until last night carried a one-year term. Nominated assembly vice chairman last night were Rev. Harold E. Carr of Lakewood; Evangelical United Brethren Bishop A. R. Clippinger of Dayton; and Rev. Harold Cooke Phillips of Cleveland. Rev. E. E. Nietz, of Columbus, EUB conference superintendent, was named recording secretary.

Charles F. Johnson, Columbus, was re-elected Ohio Council treasurer.

Clarence D. Laylin, Columbus, was elected chairman of the administrative committee. Members included Rev. A. Ward Applegate of Wilmington and Rev. George Parkinson of Canton.

Also elected were the following department chairmen: Pastor's convention, Rev. Nelson M. Burroughs of Cincinnati; town and country, Rev. Alva W. Knoll, Route 2, Tippecanoe; public affairs, Rev. P. W. Sharp, Columbus.

Comity, Reverend Herman Klahr, Columbus; Evangelism, Bishop Clippinger; weekday schools for religion, Rev. B. L. Duval of Columbus; youth, Rev. Hamlin Tebey, Columbus; and religious education, Dr. J. Gordon Howard, president of Otterbein college, Westerville.

The theme of the celebration is "Adventure—that's Scouting!" This year the movement is emphasizing the fun and fellowship its members get out of the game of Scouting. More high adventure is planned in the out-of-doors. Their adventure in citizenship will find Scouts emphasizing civic service activities, emergency service training and world Scouting relationships. During Boy Scout Week, Scouts, their parents and countless communities will honor the volunteer adult leaders of the nation's 70,000 Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Senior Units. his mind but the others said they are "standing pat." They are Sens William M. Boyd and Joseph W. Bartunek, both of Cleveland, and Arthur Blake of Martins Ferry.

Bartunek said the "pressure" to get him to change had eased a bit but still was intense. He and Sawicki have been in to see the governor on the situation, they said.

40 New Bills In
About 40 new proposals were introduced in the legislature after lawmakers began their fifth week of the 96th session.

Rep. Guy C. Hiner (R-Stark) offered a bill he said would "completely outlaw" slot machines provided penalties for violations were stiff. They ranged from fines of $200 to $500 and a year in jail for the first offenders to $1,000 to $5,000 and five to ten years in the penitentiary for three-timers.

Three members of the Star county delegation offered plans for uniform time in Ohio.

One would grant the General assembly sole power to fix standard time, taking that authority from local subdivisions. Another would provide hour-fast Daylight Saving time from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in September.

Both resolutions were in the form of changes in the state constitution which give voters at the polls the final say.

The three sponsors are Reps. Joseph A. Duber, Ann Ryan and Ed Finner, all Democrats.

Senator Sawicki asked a law requiring the department of education to censor televised pictures as well as movies. Fees would be $3 for each ten minutes of televised picture time.

Strip miners would have bonds raised to $200 an acre from $100 to guarantee land restoration under a proposal by Rep. Ray W. White (D-Holmes). Administration would be given to the agriculture director.

Board Rules On Job Referrals

COLUMBUS, Feb. 1 — (INS)—A person dependent upon the unemployment compensation board must accept a referral to a job opportunity when directed by the employment office.

The board of review of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation ruled that a person who refuses to investigate a job opportunity referred to him by the agency because he expects to return to his former job, cannot draw compensation.

The board reached the decision in the case of a Springfield woman who became temporarily unemployed when operations were suspended at her job because of a fire.

She filed a claim for benefits and, shortly afterwards, was referred to another job for which the agency found her to be reasonably fitted.

The woman admitted in a signed statement that she had refused to accept the job opportunity because she expected to return to her former employment. She said the wages offered by the prospective employer were too low and that she was not actively seeking re-employment.

The board contended that the Ohio law provides that no person may collect benefits if he or she has refused to accept a job referral. The claimant was found to be ineligible for benefits because she had not complied with the law.

FRANK HOOVER, LISBON PLUMBER FOR FIFTY YEARS, IS FAMILIAR FIGURE

LISBON, Feb. 1—Frank Hoover doesn't have any sign over his place of business.

He has no truck traveling the streets with his name on the side.

Yet, almost anyone in Lisbon, seeing him pass, says: "There goes Frank on another plumbing job."

He's been fixing Lisbon's faucets for 50 years. He thinks he's visited just about every home in the community.

He walks to every job, his tool kit perched on his left shoulder. No matter how far he has to go, he never shifts that kit from his left shoulder. He never even touches it after getting the weight properly adjusted—just strolls along, greeting friends, observing the changing seasons, doing a job he knows all about.

Born in Old Allegheny—it's now called Pittsburgh, Pa.—of Irish parentage, he became a plumber's apprentice in 1894.

It was in 1898 that he came to Lisbon, joining his brother, Samuel Hoover, in the plumbing business. Later he worked for the P. M. Armstrong Co. and the Ridge Plumbing & Heating Co. before establishing his own business.

He's always worked out of that shoulder kit of his, which will weigh anywhere from 35 to 40 pounds, depending on the job he has to do.

Now 73, he says he'd "like to take it a little easy."

So he's stopped undertaking remodeling jobs and the like. Almost everything he does now is an emergency such as a clogged sewer and flooded basements.

After locating in Lisbon, he married Theresa Lebus of Dunganon. The family residence for years has been on W. Chestnut st., near St. George's Catholic church, of which both Mr. and Mrs. Hoover long have been prominent and active members.

They have a daughter, Mrs. Walter L. Ewing of Lisbon, a son, Ben Hoover of Youngstown and five grandchildren.

Coach Carl Bachman Says
Everyone In Ohio Fears
Game With Findlay Team

BY JIM DAILEY

COLUMBUS, Feb. 1—(UP)—Ohio scholastic basketball fans who've wondered how State Champion Findlay High school has managed to stay on or near the top of the rugged tournament heap year after year perhaps had the answer today—preparation.

A look at the program of Coach Carl Bachman's eagles reveals that this year, at any rate, they'll enter the tourney grid a lot fresher than most of their competition because of a light schedule.

From here on out the Trojans play only Cincinnati Elder, Celina, Fremont Ross, and Bowling Green, hardly a group that would strike fear into such teams as Lakewood, Hamilton, Middletown, Lancaster, Ashland, and a dozen other top-notchers in the state.

The Trojans, runner-up to Middletown for the state title in 1947 and winner in 1948, are just about to cop their seventh championship in the Buckeye league, by no means one of the toughest groups in the state, and are a good bet for their second straight state title.

To date this season Findlay has only one decision, that to Xenia Central on the Xenia floor by a close 32-29 count. Xenia Central, one of the Trojans' two or three toughest opponents this year, was beaten, 45-37.

Coach Bachman, in an answer to public statement by Sports Editor Joe Halberstein of The Lima News that Findlay's opposition is not too strong, says he'd like to play stronger teams but they want no part of Findlay because "we're too tough."

He said the Greater Ohio league, which includes Lima Central, South, Middletown, Hamilton, Springfield and Portsmouth, is no stronger than Findlay's Buckeye loop.

"I believe we played three of our members last year, Lima, South, Central and Hamilton," Bachman said, "and we had the latter 36-12 until we put in our reserves."

"We were asked to enter the Springfield Christmas tournament but were finally informed that we could not play because we were too tough. Even Canton McKinley wants no part of Findlay," Bachman said.

Bachman said "we have continually tried to play the best teams in the state, feeling that we can earn something by playing the better teams. However, we have had difficulty in scheduling most of the good ones since they do not want to take a chance on getting beat."

Meanwhile Findlay looks like a good bet to repeat as state champions, led by the towering Bill Barnes and Bill Wisner. The Trojans, with a plentiful smattering of reserves, crushed Tiffin Columbian over the weekend, 53-22.

In other battles involving top teams, Mansfield maintained its long home-floor victory streak by edging Columbus East, 37-36; Middletown strictly No. 2 in its district since a Hamilton drubbing, tamed Columbus West, 47-36; and Xenia Central practically sewed up the Miami Valley league with a 31-23 win over Mansfield.

Lancaster proved itself superior in the Central Ohio league by avenging an earlier defeat at the hands of Coshocton, 50-41; Lakewood continued its undefeated string in the Lake Erie loop, with a victory over Shaw, 46-29; and Toledo Central Catholic stayed on top in its town with a 58-40 triumph over Macomber.

Ashland dumped Mentor, 60-38; Painesville took heres Ashland Harbor, 39-29; Hamilton rolled over Chillicothe, 63-25; Gallipolis did the same to Pomeroy, 68-28; and Martins Ferry remained the class of Eastern Ohio with an impressive 81-41 victory over Bellaire.

In Class B circles state title runner-up Lima St. Rose topped Ada, 55-36; Columbiana had an easy time with Springfield Township, 57-33; Junction City downed Moxahala, 54-52; Glenford knocked over Thornville, 55-45; and Frazysburg whipped Adamsville, 62-43.

Youngstown College
Has Busy Week Set

On Wednesday night district fans will be treated to a triple bill at the Youngstown High field house.

At 6:30 the Youngstown college junior varsity will meet the Knights of Columbus from Farrell, Pa.

At 7:30 Rayen high will oppose Warren Harding high and in the main tilt carded for 8:30 Youngstown college will battle Marshall college of Huntington, W. Va.

Walt Brown, former Salem High star, is playing on the Youngstown college varsity team, which has won seven and lost six. Walt, playing his first year for the "Penguins," has shown fine form in games played recently and Coach Don Russell expects much from him in the future.

Saturday night, finds the fabulous "Dukes" from Duquesne invading the South High fieldhouse to battle the Penguin cagers. In the past two years the contests have really been hard fought battles, and this one expects to be no exception.

Toledo — Archie Moore, 167, St. Louis; stopped Bob Satterfield, 175, Chicago, 3.

Once-beaten Mullins, stomping off in quest of their second round title, impressively subdued Damascus at the Memorial building Monday by a handy 60-22 count.

Shifts From Ohio State,
Where He Was Head Coach,
To Tough Mid-American

BY FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 1—(AP)—Ohio University served notice today that it is dropping the Mid-American conference football doormat, by signing Carroll C. Widdoes of Ohio State as head coach.

Quiet, sincere "Wid" gives up a $10,000 per year full professorship at the state university to take the job starting March 1. It is a new chapter in one of the strangest sports stories of our time.

Back in 1941 Widdoes came to Ohio State as backfield coach when Paul E. Brown moved in as chief after Francis Schmidt's seven years of razzle-dazzle.

For three years Widdoes hung on to the assistant job, and then Brown enlisted in the Navy. "Wid" took over as boss, and the baby Bucks—a team of 4-F rejects and Freshmen—romped through nine straight foes to take the Big Nine title and give Ohio State its first unbeaten untied season since the '20s.

The next year Widdoes, after being named Coach of the Year for his 1944 effort, piloted the team to seven wins and two losses.

With the greatest record ever compiled by a Buckeye mentor wrapped up, "Wid" nonchalantly announced he didn't care for the pressure connected with a head coaching job, and stepped back into his backfield job as Paul Bixler's number one Brown aide, vaulted over him to the top spot.

Bixler lasted one season, and then Wesley Fesler, former All-America end at Ohio State, came in from Pittsburgh to take over. Wid remained as one of his valued assistants.

Now Widdoes feels he'd like an other crack at head coaching, and he'll get it with the jostling folk in the Athens county hills—in one of the toughest minor loops in the country.

"Leaving Ohio State university and my associations here with Dick Larkins (athletic director) and Fesler is a step taken with a lot of regret on my part," Widdoes said. "I have lots of regard for both of them and the rest of the staff, and that high regard is not only for their coaching abilities."

"I've had a wonderful time here. The 1947 season was a bit rough, but last season I enjoyed more than any in my career. We just had a swell time."

"The position at Ohio U. offers me opportunities for the future which were major factors in my decision to accept. I just couldn't overlook the chance, despite my fine associations here."

Widdoes takes over the reins from Harold Wise, who won six of 18 games in two years.

Arrayed against him in the tight little Mid-American loop will be Cincinnati, coached by Sid Gillman who signed there a few weeks ago after George Blackburn and Joe Madro resigned to join Gillman; Butler, with Tony Finkle at the helm; Western Michigan, piloted by Johnny Gill; and Western Reserve, coached by Mike Scarry, former star center for the professional Cleveland Browns.

"Wid" probably will find that opposition just as tough as the Big Nine foes against whom he scored 481 points while allowing 149 in his two years as boss of the Bucks.

Widdoes, whose appointment as Ohio U. coach was scheduled for formal announcement late today, was picked from among 65 applicants. Brandon T. (Butch) Grover, assistant to the president at Ohio U., and former hot-shot cage coach of the Babcats, said the formal announcements were in the mails.

The Miami hunt for a new mentor was wide open again today following the announcement last night that Paul Brown, coach of the Cleveland All-America conference pro champs, had signed to stay there for another seven years.

Miami had hoped Brown, who earlier had indicated he would like to reenter the collegiate field, might return to his Alma Mater.

Widdoes' departure from Ohio State erases from that university the last of the staff which Brown took there from Massillon High school in 1941. The others left earlier. Hugh McGranahan went into business several years ago, Bixler returned to Colgate, and Fritz Heiser joined his old boss with the professionals.

Ohio State now has two coaching jobs to fill. Sam Selby having resigned recently as Freshman mentor. Reports are that he will be succeeded by a southwestern Ohio high school coach, who has been in his present job only one season, but Widdoes' replacement must even be named. The OSU trustees will meet Feb. 14 to approve the new mentors.

Widdoes' contract expires March 1, and his pact with Ohio U. starts immediately—giving him time to take over the spring practice sessions.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1—(AP)—Kentucky is the new No. 1 basketball team of the nation, replacing St. Louis university in the third weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and sports-masters.

A 24-point victory involving the magic name of Notre Dame sent the Wildcats out front for the first time. Kentucky has won 14 and lost 1. St. Louis has a 13-1 mark.

Forty-three different schools were mentioned by the 71 participants who gave Kentucky a 39-25 margin in first place ballots. The other No. 1 votes were divided among Oklahoma Aggies with 4 and Western Kentucky, Illinois and Stanford, with one each.

Back of Kentucky and St. Louis came the Oklahoma Aggies, who avenged an earlier loss by thumping DePaul of Chicago, 37-26.

Illinois, which handed Minnesota its first loss after 13 straight, 45-44, edged into fourth place ahead of the Gophers.

Western Kentucky (16-1) knocked out the unbeaten division by Eastern Kentucky, 42-40, slipped two pegs from fourth to sixth.

Then came Villanova (12-1) and Hamline (14-0), the nation's only unbeaten major team, seventh and eighth, respectively.

Stanford moved into the top 10 in the poll, based on games played through Saturday night, by downing San Jose state and Pittsburgh to make it 17-2 for the year.

San Francisco, a 56-49 victor over Arizona, dropped one place to tenth. Stanford is the only new face in the top 10. It ousted Utah which was upset by Brigham Young twice in three days.

Because he has been approached by a number of college representatives, Brown said he wanted to make this clear:

"I have decided this is no time to give up, because of the present turmoil in professional football. I've made a decision to stick with it. Knowing I'm going to stay two more years, I may as well go with it the route."

McBride, a leader in the recent peace overtures from the All-America Football conference to the older National league, voiced his satisfaction over the new agreement.

McBride admitted his Brown's lost $40,000 last season when they were unbeaten and untied. He estimated the combined losses of AAFU members at $80,000 and of National league clubs at about $1,100,000.

But he shared with Brown the feeling that a solution to the troubles would come in the not too distant future.

When his new contract runs out in 1955, Brown will be 48. His wizardry at organization and coaching first won national attention while he was coaching at Massillon High school, where he was once a student. His Massillon High school, where he was once a student, His Massillon teams won 58 or 60 games from 1932 to 1940.

From there he went to Ohio State to succeed Francis Schmidt in 1941 and in his second year the Bucks had a record of nine victories and one defeat. As a Navy lieutenant he coached the Great Lakes Naval station team in 1944 and 1945.

On the contrary, he emphasized, he liked Cleveland, he liked the Browns who have won the All-America Football conference championship for him all three years the junior loop has been operating, and he liked working for his boss, Browns' Owner Arthur B. (Mickey) McBride.

Because he has been approached by a number of college representatives, Brown said he wanted to make this clear:

"I have decided this is no time to give up, because of the present turmoil in professional football. I've made a decision to stick with it. Knowing I'm going to stay two more years, I may as well go with it the route."
